ABOUT US

Kaadhya Foodtech is an innovative company dedicated to the sustainable production of dehydrated food products by harnessing solar energy. Their approach ensures the preservation of essential nutrients, offering consumers a healthy and eco-friendly option.

By utilizing solar dehydration methods, Kaadhya Foodtech is not only reduces the carbon footprint associated with traditional drying processes but also supports environmental conservation. The company is deeply committed to empowering rural communities by sourcing raw materials directly from local farmers, thereby supporting agricultural livelihoods.

Furthermore, Kaadhya Foodtech plays a significant role in fostering gender equality and economic development by providing employment opportunities for women in rural areas. This holistic approach not only contributes to food sustainability but also strengthens the socio-economic fabric of the communities they engage with.
